The Crane Manufacturers Association of America is the leading advocate for the safe, efficient and reliable application of overhead travelling crane technology.

Our members represent the best in American crane manufacturing. They’re dedicated to conducting business professionally with integrity, honesty and a spirit of enthusiasm and co-operation to achieve shared objectives.

So when you see the CMAA logo you know you’re working with the best America has to offer in the overhead travelling crane industry.

Learn from the Experts

The strong engineering and technical focus of the CMAA membership actively serving our markets has provided an extensive library of case studies that showcase new and innovative solutions in material handling while simultaneously creating educational material, engineering specifications, safety and operational guidelines and related resources.

All of which positions the CMAA as the primary provider of educational material essential for safe, productive, overhead material handling.

Delivering Greater Benefits

The diversity, quality and experience of the CMAA membership produce specifications that are widely recognized and proudly associated with safe, optimal designs.

By applying strict engineering standards, specifications and operational procedures developed over time, CMAA members can offer versatile solutions that will deliver maximum benefits to their customers.

Comprehensive Product Portfolio and Services

CMAA members are engaged in a variety of product areas across a wide range of industries providing innovation, expertise and experience that result in solutions tailored to individual industries, including:

- Overhead travelling cranes and hoists
- Controls
- Conductor bars
- Below the hook devices

Alliance with Occupational Safety & Health Administration (OSHA)

- Safety Tip Cards
- Fact Sheets
- Safety Tip Sheets
Proven Experience

Trust the Crane Manufacturers Association of America when evaluating suppliers for quality, reliability and every facet of performance and support.

Founded on more than 50 years of experience in North America, the CMAA is your assurance of product and service excellence.

Always Look for the Logo

So why go anywhere else in the world for your overhead material handling needs, when your best business partners are right here? The Crane Manufacturers Association of America.