WIL & DECK™

WHY CHOOSE

BECAUSE EVERY DETAIL MATTERS

Wildeck provides material handling solutions for customers by meeting their specific needs with designs that are tailored to their application requirements. We don't just bid on jobs using any material; we design in the strength, durability and quality that your job requires. Wildeck has the products, people, and experience to deliver the right solution for your storing, lifting, and guarding needs.

Because Your Space Matters

When you need to find more space to help your operation succeed, a custom designed Wildeck® mezzanine will help your facility work harder and more efficiently. Wildeck can help you fully utilize existing overhead space with a mezzanine that is designed and constructed to give you superior functionality, durability, safety, and longer term usability. Wildeck can also provide VRCs (vertical reciprocating conveyors) to efficiently move your materials, and safety guarding products to protect your investment.

With a Wildeck solution, you'll gain valuable working, office, storage, or manufacturing areas at lower than new construction costs. Today, more facility managers look to Wildeck to put their space to work fast with minimal interruption and maximum results. All because your space matters.

Because Price and Value Matter

Of course price matters, it always does. But value matters more. Because better-built mezzanines, VRCs, and Guarding products that are designed to be rugged, reliable, safe and longer lasting, deliver a higher return for your investment. The value isn't always in the price today, but in your total cost of ownership over time.

You can depend on the material handling professionals at Wildeck to design in value and long-term cost efficiency...because price and value matter.

Because Design Matters

Wildeck® products deliver more value because we go beyond just meeting your specifications. We design products and structures that are solid, rugged, and safe. A Wildeck solution will meet your needs and enhance your investment with designs that are just right for your material size, load, and handling requirements. Years of application experience and engineering skill go into every project design.

Our designers and graduate engineers use the latest and best design software including:

- AutoCAD®
- Inventor®
- RAM®
- RAMCAD®

Wildeck is a pioneer in the design of custom mezzanines, VRCs, and safety guarding products that meet the highest industry standards. We design and build cost effective material handling solutions that precisely fit your application...because design matters.

Because Materials Matter

When you build a mezzanine, VRC, or Guarding product, it better be solid. It better be well designed for the weight or impact load, well constructed, rugged, reliable and safe with a strong, unitized structure. Wildeck structures and products have all that and more:

- Bolt together construction (all products)
- Durable 2 Part polyurethane paint (all products)
- 5 separate and distinct mezzanine framing systems
- Structural support steel on VRC mast and carriage
- Guarding product posts that are 5" X 5" with 12" base plates

You can rely on Wildeck components to work together to deliver maximum performance and strength...because materials matter.

Because Products Matter

Wildeck offers a full line of mezzanines, VRCs, and safety guarding products that provide material handling solutions to meet your needs.

Storing products – Optimize existing overhead space to gain valuable office, storage, or manufacturing areas at lower than new construction costs.

Lifting products – Provide a cost effective, safe and easy way to move materials from one level to another.

Guarding products – Are a cost effective solution for protecting people and equipment from fork trucks or other hazards.

Let Wildeck be your first choice for material handling...because products matter.

Because Hidden Costs Matter

Mezzanines, VRCs, and safety guarding products are not created equal. Make sure you look closely...the lowest bid may be on spec but does it meet your performance expectations? Be aware of hidden costs lurking in a low bid: costs like redesign to correct shortfalls, re-bidding and re-installation. And make sure the low bid includes everything you need...like drawings, manuals, hardware, and more. Wildeck bids have no hidden costs. Our freight rates are guaranteed, and we provide a "ready for shipment guarantee" on mezzanines... because hidden costs matter.

Because Service and Support Matter

Wildeck products are designed and built to be strong, rugged and reliable, and we back them with the best service and support in the industry. When you work with Wildeck you can rely on:

- 24/7 live help line
- Expert assistance on permit issues
- Fully staffed and experienced Customer Service team
- P.E. seal and calculations
- 48 hour quote turnaround

At Wildeck, customer needs are always our first priority...from sales to engineering; computer-aided design to manufacturing; installation to service support...every detail matters.
