

Rack Load Signs

Rack load signs are a specialist product, designed to be used on racking and shelving to show weight loading information for the safe use of storage equipment. Standard templates are tailored to individual customer needs.

Our load notice signs are laser printed on polyester materials with a permanent pressure-sensitive adhesive and applied to a 1/16" styrene backer board.

Once your order is placed, a member of our production team will contact you to request your load limit data and finalize your specific color and layout requirements.

Working with many of the largest distribution companies for many years, ASG Services has built a vast knowledge base in multiple solution types that enables us to be at the forefront of the warehouse location and identification market. Our on-site production facility gives us ultimate flexibility.
